SEEKING HIS FREEDOM.

R. M. Thompson Applies for a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Robert M. Thompson, who is charged with violation of the United States pension laws, today filed a petition in the Supreme Court of the District, asking for a writ of habeas corpus, with a view of securing his release from the custody of harged with holding $1,000 allowed to

It is alleged in the petition for a writ of habeas corpus that Thompson was arrested on this charge in May, 1888, in the District, on a warrant issued by Judge Eli Sheeby, of the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Tennessee. At that time Thompson files in application for a writ of habeas cor pus, in the Supreme Court of the District, and upon hearing the writ was allowed by Justice Montgomery.

About three months ago Thompson was again arrested on the same charge, at the instance of the Tennessee authorities, but on account of his illness the matter was not brought to a hearing. Today Thompson made application to Justice Bradley for a writ, of habeas corpus, and he ordered the petition to be filed in forma auperis.

Seven more are to be provided with sites and started from the foundation.

The Inspector of Buildings, speaking of the matter today, said that the building operations under the last appropriation bill were as far advanced as could be ex pected. He explained that it takes consid erable time to acquire the sites, to adjus the plans to the sites, and to erect the buildings. Generally, he said, it is from eighteen months to two years after Con-gress approves the appropriation for a public building before it is ready for or cupancy. He stated that the work of construction, plumbing, and furnishing a school building goes through the hands of veral contractors, and that they usually take their time to complete their contracts. Often, he said, it became necessary to extend the time of the contract to accommodate some unforeseen emergenbuilding. In the first place the site is chosen with a view to the purpose to which the building is to be put. Then the plans of the structure are studied so as and the convenience of those who are to occupy it. Then as much attention as posible is given to the outside and inside ornamentation of the building. This is generally regulated by the amount of money available. Drainage and the lay ing of the foundations come in for their share of inspection, and the office of the Inspector of Buildings is immovable in its demands that the work here shall be lone as specified in the contract.

The materials are chosen with care, are woe to the contractor who tries to paim upon the District something that is different from that agreed upon. It is possible to use other material than that set down in the specifications, but to do so the contractor is obliged to submi the matter in writing to the Engineer De-partment and the question is finally settled by appeal to the Commissioners. The same care is exercised as to the fin-Ishing of the building, the introduction o heating, plumbing, gas fixtures, and fur-niture. The District must in all cases receive what it pays for.

It is the Intention of the Commissioner that all the buildings provided for in the last appropriation bill shall be completed with good work. It is the policy of the Board not to hurry building operations to the detriment of the structures when finthe detriment of the structures when in-ished. To the outside observer, the build-jugs seem to go up slowly, but by that means the wails are well seasoned and everything is strong and durable. In a few instances the amounts provided by Congress will be insufficient to build the proposed structures, and additional amounts will have to be asked in the next appropriation bill.

A delegation of residents and property holders of the Northeast section called it
